

SPORTS

Hockey
Tennis

BOXING

Bowling
Billiards

BASEBALL

Wrestling
Swimming

BASKETBALL

NOTRE DAME TRACK
TEAM FACES TOUGH
ASSIGNMENT HEREWisconsin Squad Composed of Veterans—Hockey Team to Meet Badgers.

Notre Dame is facing a mighty tough proposition Saturday afternoon when the crack Wisconsin track squad will meet the gold and blue in the gymnasium. Wisconsin is coming here with practically a veteran squad, supplemented by several stars from last spring's freshman team. Notre Dame, on the other hand, has been crippled by dislocations and illness until only the shadow of her former track team is left. The latest blow is the sickness of Barber, whom Rookness was counting upon for the half mile. Barber is now in the infirmary, and can not possibly get in shape for Saturday. Bill Hayes, of course, will be out for the rest of the indoor season.

Despite this, the Irish expect to score heavily in several events—the high jump, the quarter mile, the shot put, and the relay race. The Badgers will have to exert themselves in the two mile and half mile. The Notre Dame relay team is expected to hit its real stride Saturday. In the mile race, the men were handicapped by a wooden floor, and they placed second to Boston college. There is no doubt, however, that they can better their mark of that occasion by several seconds. This will give them a mighty good chance to cop the race with Wisconsin. In the shot put also, Notre Dame will be strong. Flinn can do more than 40 feet consistently, while Lieb and Moss can come within a few inches of that distance. Lieb is handicapped by a sore wrist at the present time, but he will compete in the meet. The quarter mile should add a number of scores to the Notre Dame total with Walsh, Heffernan, Montague and Desch participating. All of these men can do 53 seconds regularly, and that is better than the Badger entries as a group can do.

Receive Badger Entries.

The Wisconsin entries were received by Coach Rookness yesterday. The program follows:

Pole vault: Merrick, McClure, Harman, Wisconsin; Hamill, Falvey, Hogan and Cameron, Notre Dame.

40-yard dash: Knollin, Spetz, Johnson, Ellingson, Wisconsin; Desch, Kelly, Holleran, Brady, Connor, Notre Dame.

1 mile: Wall, Wille, Schneider, Wisconsin; Kennedy, Doran, Desmond, Disney, Notre Dame.

High jump: Platten, Gibson, Wisconsin; Murphy, Kohn, Brady, Notre Dame.

Quarter mile: Johnson, Spetz, Ellingson, Stolley, Wisconsin; Walsh, Desch, Montague, Heffernan, Notre Dame.

Hurdles: Knollin, Stolley, Newell, Wisconsin; Carroll, Kohn, Notre Dame.

Two mile: Finkle, Rossmesse, Heffernan, Wille, Wisconsin; Baumer, Hayes, Hagan, O'Hara, Notre Dame.

Shot put: Sundt, Gudo, Wisconsin; Moss, Flinn and Lieb, Notre Dame.

Half mile: Ramsay, Wade, Hinfeld, Wall, Wisconsin; Montague, Doran, Kennedy and Disney, Notre Dame.

Relay: Spetz, Johnson, Wade, Ellingson, Stolley, Wisconsin; Desch, Walsh, Heffernan and Montague, Notre Dame.

MEET BADGERS ON ICE.

The Notre Dame hockey team has consented to meet Wisconsin on Saturday afternoon at the campus rink, weather permitting. This was decided last night upon receipt of a telegram from T. E. Jones asking for a game at that time. The contest will start at 1:30 and should finish about half an hour before the track meet begins. This provides plenty of time in case an overtime period should be played.

CAR BARN CHAMP SEEKS
NO FURTHER HONORS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Pat Mulvaney, motorman of subway trials, won the heavyweight pugilistic championship of all car barns—and then was induced to take a flyer as a professional.

Tuesday night he met a subway passenger named Joe McCann and after being knocked down six times for a count of nine in the first round decided that his barn time, while it did not mean much, was enough for him.

He will resume the punching of air brake lever too.

HOME OF

Hart

Schaffner

&amp;

Marx

STYLISH

ALL-WOOL

CLOTHES

Sam'l

Spiro

&amp; Co.

Sees Deterioration
In Standard of Play
In the Big Leagues

Do you think the game has improved since you joined the American league in 1907?

That is a question that always starts an argument. Talk with the veteran of 30 years ago and he will insist the game has gone back. Speak to the star of 20 years ago and he will offer the same opinion. It seems to be customary for star players to always believe the period in which they happened to be a star, was the time when baseball was at its peak.

I am going to be a bit different from the ordinary run. I am positive that the game showed a gradual improvement from the time I entered in 1907 until about 1913 or 1914.

Then for various reasons it seems to me that the game started to slow up. When the United States got into the World War, yes a year or two before that, the game suffered a severe slump.

Standard Lower.

Ball players who have been in the American league from 10 to 15 years will frankly admit that the standard of play has been much lower for the last four or five years.

It doesn't seem to me that the clubs are playing as much real ball as they once did. Few players now take any chances on the bases. Most batters are thinking of the old base hit, rather than pulling something out of the ordinary.

I feel that the lively ball has done much to slow up the game as far as playing any inside ball.

The lively ball, and the deeds of Babe Ruth, have caused all the hitters to place the healthy swing before the inside stuff. In addition, the elimination of freak pitching has further added to the confidence of the batter.

From the way the attendance records have been broken in the last two years, however, it seems the public likes the slam-bang style of play.

SENIORS WINNERS
IN OVERTIME FRAYLeague Leaders Down Frosh,
22 to 18—Sophomore Quintet Downs Juniors.

Capt. Maxey's undefeated Senior basketball team was extended to the limit by the fighting Frosh outfit in the interclass league play yesterday afternoon at the high school gymnasium. The two teams fought it out on an even basis throughout the entire game and at the end of the second half, the count stood 18 up.

The upper class students were able to break through the Frosh defense twice during the three-minute overtime period, however, and kept their record clean by a 22-18 victory.

Interest in the games are running at a high pitch and a large number of students are turning out each week to see the representative class teams battle for top place in the league. Although some of the members of the teams are of the opinion that the Senior crew cannot be downed now that they have such a big lead on the others, Coach Elmer Burnham pointed out that the Frosh have a fast outfit, as well as the other class teams, and that the Seniors could yet be overthrown.

The Seniors lead the standing by a margin of two games.

Seniors Play Well

McCarthy played a star game at center for the senior squad yesterday and showed that he is one of the outstanding stars of the league. Minkow and Brinley also showed to good advantage at forwards for the seniors.

Strickler each played a good defensive game. Strickler received a nasty cut on the chin during the game, and two stitches were required to close the wound.

Morris Dome played a brilliant game for the yearlings and was the prime factor in his team's offensive play, scoring six times from the field in addition to playing a stellar guarding game. Dome is expected to prove a real star on next year's high school varsity five.

The lineup: Seniors (22) Frosh (18)

Brinley.....F.....Dome
Minkow.....F.....McCarthy
Strickler.....G.....Ellott
Strickler.....G.....Ellott
Maxey.....G.....Khoussong
Maxey.....G.....Khoussong

The Sophomore quintet stepped out and demonstrated that although they are at present holding down the bottom place on the standing, they have a good five and are just hitting their stride. They have had a run of hard luck all season, but appear to have broken the jinx.

They wallowed the Juniors 23 to 12, demonstrating superior floor work all the way through. Huell Hollowell and Capt. E. Edwards were the big stars. The former chalked up four field goals and the latter three.

Sophomores (23) Juniors (12)

Edwards.....F.....Koss
Plamer.....F.....Rockstroh
Hollowell.....G.....Thompson
Bourdon.....G.....Miller
Orvis.....G.....Fialie

Referee of games: Leonard Smith. Scores: Elmer Burnham, Times, Al Strauss.

The league standing:

Seniors.....5.....W. L.
Frosh.....3.....3
Juniors.....2.....4
Sophomores.....1.....5

Girls' Interclass five got under way again this afternoon in their regular weekly games. The Sophs are slated to meet the undefeated Seniors, and the Frosh clash with the Juniors.

Two New Arbiters for National League Named

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Two new arbiters have been announced for the National league. Paul Sentelle, former manager of Galveston, and Charles Pflieger, who umpired in five minor league, will work with Klem, Emslie, Rigler, Quigley, McCormick, Moran and Hart. Bill Brennan has gone back to the Southern association.

Famous Veteran Hockey Star Retires From Game

BY BILLY EVANS.

When Larry Lajoie retired from baseball the game suffered the loss of a player who had always been a great credit to the sport.

There was something picturesque about Lajoie that made him the idol of the fans.

No infielder ever handled a grounder more gracefully. He was one of the surest fielders in the history of the game.

No batter was ever more nonchalant at the plate. Yet there was rhythm in the swing of Larry's bat as he made ready to hit the ball.

When the magnates by waving on Larry told him that he was through, from their point of view, he lost much of his interest in the game.

Having been one of the games greatest stars for many years, playing the minor circuits didn't appeal to him.

Checked the Minors.

Larry could have gone on for a number of years in the minors and been a big attraction. He preferred a business career, feeling that the same amount of effort in new fields would bring him greater returns.

He has proved the wisdom of his choice.

In the hockey world, "Moose" Johnson for years has occupied much the same position as did Larry Lajoie in baseball.

For 31 years Johnson has been the idol of the hockey fans. He has been cheered and jeered, with emphasis on the cheers. No matter what the reception he always played remarkable hockey.

Lajoie of Hockey.

Big and husky, he carried fear into the hearts of opposing players when he took the puck down the ice.

Criticism from the fan always brought out the best that was in him. Fighting mad he would take chances that meant the constant flaring with serious injury.

His nose dives in an effort to beat some player to the puck, and his "poke check," in which he took a big chance of being slashed by opponents' skates, always provided a big thrill.

Johnson began playing in the case in 1901. His long reach, great speed and powerful build soon attracted much attention.

For years he starred with the Montreal Wanderers, the 1906 world champions, and for six years either holder of runner-up for the Stanley cup, hockey's most prized trophy.

Johnson has the longest reach of any professional hockey player. He accentuates this with the longest stick used in the game, making him effective as far as 91 inches from the puck.

When the cheers of the home fans turned to jeers, Johnson decided he was through.

In his passing hockey loses a player who has done much to popularize the sport.

Dr. Clapp Will Defend Cue Title This Evening

Dr. F. R. Clapp, city three-cushion billiard champion and holder of the Weisberg cup, will defend his title tonight at the Oliver parlors when he meets Richard Oglesby in a 25-point match. A close game is the general prediction as the two men both play a similar style. Possession of the cup having changed hands so frequently of late has created a greater interest in the contest. More than the usual number of spectators is expected tonight. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

'PRO' MANAGER OPPOSES USING COLLEGE PLAYERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—College students who play professional football "aren't any good to themselves, the college they are supposed to represent or the team they are playing for," according to Chris O'Brien, manager of the Chicago Cardinals, a professional football team here.

Manager O'Brien announced his intention of presenting a resolution at the next meeting of the American Football association, a professional organization calling for a blacklist by the association of any football players who violate the college amateur rules while still in college.

BILLY MISKE HELD ON GRAND LARCENY COUNT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 15.—William A. (Billy) Miske, heavyweight boxer known throughout the country, Wednesday was charged with grand larceny in an automobile deal. He is alleged to have sold City Detective Joseph Pugliese an automobile which was subject to a $50 lien. Pugliese charged that Miske represented the car to be free from all liens.

Two Teams Hold Lead in Studebaker League

Two teams continue to maintain their lead in the Studebaker industrial indoor baseball league. The Purple ship defeated the players of Dept. 182 by the score of 18 to 11 in a free hitting contest at the Y. J. C. A. Tuesday night. Zillmer and Martin composed the battery for the victors while Helquist and Rostker worked for Dept. 182. The league standing follows:

Team W. L. Pct.
Dept. 8.....5.....0.....1000
Dept. 61.....3.....0.....1000
Dept. 182.....2.....0.....1000
Trim shop.....2.....1.....667
Dept. 176.....2.....1.....667
Dept. 184.....2.....1.....667
Forge.....2.....2.....500
Took.....1.....2.....333
Dept. 38.....0.....1.....000
Stores.....0.....2.....000
Machine shop.....0.....3.....000
Dept. 47.....0.....3.....000

Director J. J. Cortright announced the formation of a team composed of colored players from the foundry to be known as the Colored Giants. This team will be a replacement team to fill in the 12 team league in the event that any organization is compelled to drop out.

KID GLEASON READY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—William "Kid" Gleason, manager of the Chicago White Sox Wednesday notified Secy Grabner that he will arrive in Chicago Thursday to round up his players for the trip to Marlin Springs, Tex., Saturday night.

HIGH SQUAD READY
FOR STURGIS GAMENine Men to Make Trip to Michigan Town—Play Loyola
Saturday Afternoon.

Coach Elmer Burnham takes nine members of his high school basketball teaming squad to Sturgis, Mich., tomorrow afternoon over the New York Central for a game with the Sturgis High five. They leave at 4:52 o'clock, and will return to the city at 11:00 o'clock the same night. The Sturgis aggregation has been preparing for the game for the past few weeks and expects to overthrow the locals. They are of the opinion that they have mastered the Bender style of play and can win on their own floor. The locals, however, will be favorites by a large margin, even in the Michigan town.

The local mentor will send his squad to bed immediately after they arrive in the city Friday night, as Capt. Scheer and his men face the Loyola Academy five of Chicago Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in an important mix-up, and Burnham is not taking chances on having his men out of shape.

Ollie Edwards, Benny Edner and Nyikos will be started at forwards as center respectively. Voodish, Capt. Scheer and Ike Voodish will be at the guard berth. They will be sent into the game to run up as big a score as possible in the early minutes of the fracas. The tide of the contest will depend largely upon when the regulars will be taken out. Russell Anderson and Morris Dome will have a chance to work in the forwards positions, while Buntman will also be used. Center Voodish will probably be shifted to running guard, and Ralston will be used at back guard. This is the way Coach Burnham will use his men providing the locals and offer some real opposition.

There should be certain restrictions placed on such permission. It might be wise to say that it is all right to play baseball for pay, provided the team is in no way connected with organized professional baseball.

Baseball offers a big field for the college athlete. Every small town in the United States has its representative team. The rivalry that exists between some of the neighboring small towns is mighty keen. In many cases the promoters have not thought of expense. Victory is the big thing.

There are a great many students who through the money made by playing summer ball are enabled to pursue their college course. It doesn't seem fair that these chaps, to whom the money means so much, should be denied the right to earn it by playing baseball after the close of the college season.

It is a very easy matter to evade the rules and escape professionalism. Such an evasion makes for deceit. The case of Hestrom and Vogel, two University of Illinois players, is just one of the reasons why the Big Ten rule relative to summer baseball is a joke.

These two star players were members of the Denison, Ia., team last year. Daniel Voss, a former University of Illinois athlete, arranged for the two Illinois stars to play with Denison. Voss is one of the leading citizens of that city.

Knowing Big Ten conditions relative to professionalism, Voss said that the boys were protected on the score. Here is the way Voss explains it:

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

"We took care of their room and board. The contractor allowed them lots of leisure time at a nearby lake."

"Vogel and Hestrom came to Denison at my invitation. They worked out a racing job. They received their pay from the contractor who had charge of it. They played two or three games of ball a week. Not one cent did they receive for playing ball, but I might add that they were well paid for their work on the paving job."

GENE TUNNEY WANTS TO MEET CARPENTIER

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—Gene Tunney, champion of the light heavyweight championship of America, who disposed of Whitey Wenzel of Pittsburgh in four rounds here Tuesday night, said Wednesday he is anxious to fight Georges Carpentier.

"Doc" Bagley, manager of Tunney, said he had sent a dozen cables to Carpentier's manager without a reply.

"Tex" Rickard has been trying for the match too," Bagley said. "As far as we can find out, Carpentier wants Tom Gibbons, Harry Greb and Tunney to fight an elimination tournament. Then he will meet the winner."

Tunney's manager said that if they could not get Carpentier to come to America they would go to France or arrange for a fight anywhere.

There should be certain restrictions placed on such permission. It might be wise to say that it is all right to play baseball for pay, provided the team is in no way connected with organized professional baseball.

Baseball offers a big field for the college athlete. Every small town in the United States has its representative team. The rivalry that exists between some of the neighboring small towns is mighty keen. In many cases the promoters have not thought of expense. Victory is the big thing.

There are a great many students who through the money made by playing summer ball are enabled to pursue their college course. It doesn't seem fair that these chaps, to whom the money means so much, should be denied the right to earn it by playing baseball after the close of the college season.

It is a very easy matter to evade the rules and escape professionalism. Such an evasion makes for deceit. The case of